COUNTY SALARY AVERAGE IS LOW

A statement drawn up at San Bernardino shows that Orange county is paying its county officers salaries that are among the lowest paid by eighteen counties whose salary lists were used for comparison.

On November 2, San Bernardino county, which has a county charter, is to vote upon a provision for increasing salaries for county officers. Raises in salaries there by a charter provision can become effective soon. Orange county officials can get no raises in salaries until the end of their terms.

At present Orange county salaries are: Clerk, $2400; sheriff, $2200; auditor, treasurer, tax collector, $2000; superintendent of schools, $2250; assessor, $3000; supervisor, $1500.

The last legislature made several raises in salaries for Orange county officials, but those raises are not effective during the term of office for which the officials were elected. The raises provided do not take the Orange county salary average provided for 1923 over what San Bernardino is now paying.

The San Bernardino Sun has the following: "The amendment in this county would make an adjustment of $50 a month with somewhat more for the sheriff, district attorney and county clerk."

"The present salaries were fixed eight years ago and were reduced on the theory the officers would not be required to make campaigns for election but be appointed. This was amended, however, and all officers required to run for election."

"The list of counties with which the comparison is made includes: Tulare, Kern, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, San Jose, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Humboldt, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Riverside, Sonoma, Orange, Madera, Imperial. Some Examples

"Fair examples of counties of relative importance with San Bernardino show salaries as follows:

"Kern, sheriff $4800, district attorney, $4000, clerk $3600 and fees, tax collector, $4000; treasurer $4000; recorder $4000, auditor $4000, assessor, $5000, coroner $3000, superintendent of schools $3000, surveyor $1800.

"San Diego, sheriff, clerk, tax collector, treasurer, recorder, auditor, assessor, surveyor, each $3800; district attorney $4000, coroner $1500, superintendent of schools $3000.

"Contra Costa, sheriff $5000, district attorney $3250, clerk $3600, tax collector, $3250, treasurer $3250, recorder $3250, auditor, $3250, assessor $5000, superintendent of schools $3250, surveyor $3250.

"San Mateo, sheriff, $4000, district attorney $3000, county clerk $3000 and fees, tax collector, $3500, treasurer $3000, recorder $3500, auditor, $3000, assessor, $4000, superintendent of schools $2700, surveyor $2400.

"San Jose, sheriff, $4000, district attorney, clerk, tax collector, treasurer, recorder, auditor, assessor surveyor $3600 each; superintendent of schools $3000.

"Various other counties of similar class pay similar salaries, with the larger counties running far ahead."

In San Bernardino county the present salaries are: District attorney $2700, clerk, $2500, tax collector, treasurer, recorder, auditor, assessor, surveyor, highway commissioner, superintendent of schools $2400, coroner and public administrator (one office) $1800, supervisors $1200, and chairman of board and purchasing agent (one office) $2400.

"Even with the increase the new schedule will not be up with other counties of the same class."

$10,000 GEM THEFT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—A daring burglar secured $10,000 worth of gems from the Golden State Gem Store, 726 South San Pedro street, according to the proprietor, W. C. Smith. The burglar entered the rear of the store by cutting through a screen door while Smith and his clerks were talking on the sidewalk. The gems were in a dark brown leather sample case in a rear room used for sleeping purposes. The police believe that the burglary was committed by some person familiar with the place.

BURGLAR OVERLOOKS CASH

ONTARIO, Oct. 21.—Loot valued at $800 was taken by burglars who ransacked the George C. Stanley home, 422 West D street, while the family was absent for a few hours. The front door was standing open when the family returned, the thief evidently having found a key which was lost by a member of the family some time ago. The burglar disregarded cash and clothing, and took only jewelry, among which were a diamond studded bracelet and three watches.

PLAN PAVING JOB

CHINO, Oct. 21.—Supervisor Cheney of the Fourth district, including Chino, is busy on plans for paving Riverside drive west of Chino. This will connect with Chino paving and afford an easier outlet to Los Angeles and the beaches for Chinans. It is planned to have the county pay half the cost and the property owners the remainder.

DAIRIES OPPOSE LICENSE

POMONA, Oct. 21.—When is a dairy not a dairy? This is the question now before the Pomona city fathers. It was reported to the city councilmen by the health department that there are dairies within the city limits that are not paying the required city license, and have no intention of doing so. Though these dairies are in Pomona, all their milk is sold to Los Angeles distributors. Los Angeles officials inspect the milk and hence, it is argued, this community is not put to any expense, while the establishments spend considerable money in and around this city.

TRAINMEN ISSUE STRIKE THREAT

workers would not call a strike until everything possible had been done to settle the miners' controversy.

Transport workers, the other division of the "triple alliance," announced through their secretary, Robert Williams, that negotiations were not reopened within 24 hours the issue would be clearly drawn between the government and the workers.

Williams is regarded as a radical. He is accredited with being the real head of the organization. Thomas, secretary of the railwaymen, is a moderate but has been committed to the policy of the union heads.

CRISIS NEAR IN STRIKE MOVE LEADERS DECLARE
LONDON, Oct. 21.—"Unless negotiations to end the coal strike are instituted within 24 hours, the issue will be between the government and the working classes," Secretary Robert Williams, of the transport workers said today.

Williams made the statement following the morning session of transport workers' delegates. He is recognized as one of the radical leaders.

move to force nationalization of British coal mines was seen today in the demand of Welsh miners that pits in South Wales be occupied and operated.

The threat was made at a meeting in Coedely which decided to ask the south Wales conference, meeting on Friday, to expel owners and their representatives from the mines, seize and operate them until a settlement has been reached.

Railway union delegates reached no decision on a sympathetic strike and adjourned until afternoon.

The attitude of the railwaymen was defined by one of them as an inclination to wait until all possibilities of settlement of the coal strike are exhausted. If peace is not reached a sympathetic strike is certain, he said.

With miners and the government expressing a willingness to negotiate, but standing firmly for their own demands, transport and railway workers proceeded cautiously. Both the latter, members of the triple alliance, met and it was believed action to support the miners would be decided upon.

Moderates among railway workers professed hope the coal strike will be settled shortly and used all their energy in raising off a vote on a sympathetic strike.

Meanwhile, from 100,000 to 300,000 workers, aside from the coal miners have been thrown out of work by the strike. Additions to their ranks were being made almost hourly.

CROWDS THROUG SPICER'S STORE

Spicer's big new store, with its beautifully attractive and convenient arrangement, was formally opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon, looking more like a fall flower show than a modern up-to-the-minute dry goods store, what with the lavish display of chrysanthemums, dahlias and other flowers—tokens of respect and good feeling sent by other business concerns of the city.

Beautiful displays in the large windows were attracting passersby and evoking favorable comment, throughout the day. The arrangement of flowers and displayed goods within the store proved no disappointment for the expectations aroused by the brilliant window display.

The reception this afternoon was scheduled to last from 2 until 5 o'clock and the doors are to be opened again this evening from 7 until 9. No goods will be sold during the reception today.

There is an impression of ample space given by the arrangement of the lower floor, and desired articles may be easily and quickly located.

One of the most interesting features of the lower floor is the corner devoted to the Kenworthy gift shop. The mahogany walls and the shelves are lined with beautiful articles of cut glass and silver, which afford a sharp and attractive contrast with the rest of the store, which, excepting the display tables, is finished in white ivory, with gray and gold fixtures.

The mahogany display tables form additional attractive contrasts in the white ivory and gray and gold color schemes.

One of the most unique features is the baby shop on the second floor which came in for its share of exclamations from the feminine portion of the visitors at the opening.

This feature consists of a complete outfit of baby apparel. It forms a delightful little nook on the second floor and should prove popular.

Stock cabinets, mirror rooms, and dressing rooms finished in an attractive gray-blue are a most attractive feature of the Spicer store.

The second floor is most tastefully arranged and is decorated in a soft blue and gray color scheme.

A cordial welcome is extended by employees and every attention shown to visitors. The music furnished by Doyle's six-piece orchestra is greatly appreciated.

Many today looked forward to the evening reception when the lighting effects may be observed to advantage.

LANDRITH SPEECH CHEERED BY 'DRYS'

The Harris law will release all officers to act in prohibition enforcement. As a good Californian you can do nothing but vote yes on Referendum 2, November 2."

Voices Danger

In conclusion Dr. Landrith said: "We must defeat the machinations of the men who would make California the 'mecca' for all the bums and bootleggers in the country, which will be the case if the Harris bill is not passed."

In the short address made by Dr. Landrith to the women of the Federated Aid Society at the First Presbyterian church in the afternoon he gave many pointed suggestions of interest to women voters.

Dr. Landrith at that meeting was introduced by Mrs. Brehm, of Long Beach, who remarked that she had at one time had the pleasure of nominating Dr. Landrith for Vice President of the United States on the Prohibition ballot.

The principal point in the speech delivered by Dr. Landrith in the afternoon was an admonition to the women to take advantage of the privilege which has been granted them in this state and others and vote at the coming election. To this effect and as a reminder of this necessity Dr. Landrith gave the slogan, "Referendum 2, November 2; vote yes, you," which he repeated again in the evening address.

"The 'wets' in California always vote and you sometimes vote," said Dr. Landrith in emphasizing the need of every woman voter.

Continuing, Dr. Landrith said: "The people who could vote right and do not are one of the greatest menaces to moral issues of the present day. You have no right to stay away from the polls now that you have the right to vote."

In concluding, Dr. Landrith characterized those who oppose the Eighteenth amendment as guilty of secession, rebellion, treason and anarchy.

For Member of Assembly, W. O. Hart

GOOD EVENING
"We can only be false to ourselves to fail,
Only be weak to ourselves to arrive at wrong,
There is a strength of the soul that must prevail
If we stand steadfast to the right in the midst of the throng."

THE LIBRARY

Day after day and month after month the Santa Ana Public Library has broadened its field of usefulness. It is an institution that touches community life closely. Books from it go into nearly every home in the city. Its shelves are a mine of information, and its staff is a factor in making the library a force in the city.

The library's work has been done quietly and efficiently. Its development has been along lines best suited to Santa Ana. Foremost in the minds of its trustees and librarians has been the idea of service.

For years the library has continued to grow in spite of the fact that its financial support by the city as a rule has not been of a liberal nature. Marvels have been done with the funds at hand, for the purchase of books has been governed by the demands of the people.

There has been no effort to get great numbers of books just to be getting books. It has been considered far better to have one book that people wanted to read, one book that would answer the questions that people would ask, than it would be to buy a hundred or a thousand that would never be opened.

In order to keep pace with the growth of the city, the library has just completed a number of commendable changes in its interior arrangement. These alterations have added greatly to the attractiveness of the library and to its opportunities for service.

The completion of the improvements, together with the reception given to the public last evening, gives the Register occasion to voice its sincere belief that the Santa Ana Library ought to be given substantial increases in tax apportionments. The money will be well spent, rest assured, and it will be spent in a way that will be of the greatest good to the greatest number of people.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. WILSON

The seemingly authentic news that President Wilson is improving in health cannot fail to be gratifying to all good citizens.

Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, is quoted as saying that the President has regained his normal weight, which disposes of alarmist reports to the effect that he was becoming thin and emaciated, and that he moves about with greater ease than formerly and takes some physical exercise that he could not indulge in a few weeks ago.

Around the policies of Mr. Wilson as President a sharp and bitter political contest is raging. His administration is under the fire of his political opponents. But for Woodrow Wilson, the man, his countrymen entertain feelings of respect and esteem, wholly aside from political conventions.

So we repeat that the news that the President is improving in health will be welcomed by the whole country. There is no politics, but just good, warm Americanism, in the hope, general throughout the country, that Mr. Wilson soon may be restored to health.

A PATRIOTIC DUTY

As election day draws near, Republicans of this state, this county, this town, this household—YOU face an important duty, a grave responsibility, a great opportunity; and all of us should redouble our efforts to make sure an overwhelming Republican victory in California next month.

You will recall how close the result was four years ago, and by what narrow margin the state was placed in the Democratic column. This year there can be no question whatever about a narrow margin, but only as to the side of the majority by which the state will go for Harding and Coolidge and the Republican ticket.

The East is looking to California to redeem itself from the defeat of four years ago, and we must not fail. From the public sentiment throughout the state and from the figures of registration for the August primary, absolute assurance would seem to be given of Republican victory. However, we must not overconfidently accept this promise of success, but must exert every possible effort to enlist the interest and enthusiasm of the voters and to bring every possible vote to the polls for the Republican ticket.

Republicans are justified, we believe, in laying the greatest stress upon the point that the good of the nation and the future welfare of our country demand a change of administration. But there is a further and important point that should not be overlooked, and that is that we must have a complete change in the administration of our national affairs, and hence the election of Mr. Shortridge, the Republican senatorial candidate, and that of Judge Swing, the candidate for congress, are as important as the election of Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge.

Every Republican should lay upon himself or herself the personal responsibility of making votes for the Republican ticket and seeing to it that those votes get into the ballot box.

Must Be Overwhelming

Fresno Republican
The situation arising as a result of the representation to the voters of California of the Alien land law initiative has become much more important than any measure proposing a "law" for the government or direction of the people of the state. By our system of majorities, if any other measure on the ballot is enacted by a majority of one vote, it is a law for the rest of us, and is sufficient, at least until repealed by the legislature or the people at some future date. But this initiative, applying as it does to Japanese that may seek to acquire tenure of land in California, should not receive a mere majority. It should either be defeated, or it should pass overwhelmingly. It must be disapproved, or it should be shown that the people of California as a unit are behind it. It must be more than a law. It must be a pronouncement. We should face this fact squarely.

Nothing is plainer than that the people of California are for this alien land bill. We do not want Japanese settlements in our state. Possibly we cannot prevent those that are already here. The only step that we in California can take to stop their spread is to vote this proposed law. Possibly it will not accomplish the result we desire. But if we are to vote for it at all, we must all vote for it. The vote of all of us will do much to strengthen the arm of the government of the United States, in settling the Japanese question. The vote of a bare majority will enact a disputed law, and leave the moral purpose of the state divorce and ineffective.

We must frankly recognize that this alien land law is propaganda. It is propaganda to put the people of California firm for their own rights in the eyes of the nation. It is to show Japan that the feeling of California is not idle talk but a deep-seated conviction. An overwhelming vote will be a welcome argument for the use of the State Department in its negotiations with the United States government and in its recommendations to Congress for action.

Elect Harding

Fresno Republican
The well being of the people of the United States, controlled as they are with the problem of selecting a President at the polls November 2, calls for the election of Warren G. Harding.
The Republican feels that this is the proper time for it to voice its conviction that Mr. Harding should be elected President. We have confidence that his administration will forcefully carry on the demands made upon it for execution of the laws, with the rest of the world and yet maintaining the rights and dignities of the American people.

Quite Plain

Riverside Enterprise
It is quite plain that Sam Shortridge, candidate for United States senator, and Judge Phil D. Swing, nominee for congress, will carry this part of the state, particularly Riverside county. As Governor Stephens said yesterday, people who want their products properly protected by the national government, should vote for men who stand for that thing and not for men whose very political life depends upon a different sort of action.

The Logical Man

San Bernardino Index
If there are Democrats in Imperial county who approve Judge Swing because of his superior knowledge of their needs, it is a matter of simply using good business in politics.

Coincidentally with the coming of Judge Swing to this county on a speaking tour, are reports that Swift's election is already assured and that the victory is simply a matter of majorities.
Judge Swing himself was unusually optimistic. He said that his tour of the district had convinced him that the people were favorable to his policies and that they will support him at the election.

"Don't worry about that," replied the officer. "All you have to do is zig-zag." And he demonstrated. The next time the two met, the negro was in a hospital. "What's the matter with you Mose?" asked the officer.

"Ah ain't sure, cap'n but Ah thinks Ah must been ziggin' 'bout dem time Ah oughta-been zaggin'." From the Argonaut.

Get A Home of Your Own

This is the First Step Toward Becoming Independent of the World
San Francisco Chronicle

The substantial, self-respecting, useful and respected families in any community are those who live in their own homes. Nine-tenths of the disturbance of society comes from the floating population.

It is only when one is tied to the soil with the sense of ownership that one really feels himself to be part of the community, and that is true whether the bit of soil to which he is tied is a productive farm or a city lot. Whatever it is it is the bit of the earth's surface which is his.

Whoever has passed from rental to ownership has experienced that feeling of increased respect for himself as one of the solid men of his community; one who has a particular right to be consulted, because he has made himself permanently part of his city in a way that others have not.

The possession of a home acquired by one's own earnings and savings is evidence of stability of character which gives one weight in neighborhood councils. It indicates the probability of still further accumulation because the habit of saving has been acquired, good judgment in the use of money demonstrated and the ability to persist until the desired end is accomplished. It is at the door of such men that opportunity knocks. Opportunity does not go blundering around.

The man who owns a home, acquired gradually by his own self-denial and savings, gets far more respect than one who owns a better home given him by his father until that man has in some other way demonstrated his capacity.

The number of those who by their own experience can get rich are few. They perform a most valuable service to society by providing remunerative work for those who have not the faculty of getting on. But the number of those able to acquire what is called an "independence" is very large and they are the happiest of all classes. By an independence is meant a home and additional savings to assure support in old age.

To those who aspire to that most comfortable of all stations in life the first step is the acquirement of a home. One does not seek a home to gain by its rise in value, but to live in it. Whether after twenty years the home is worth more or less than its cost is of little consequence. It is quite certain to be worth more than you would have had had you not saved the money to buy it.

Home building is happily just now rapidly increasing in this city. And it is the best indication we have of our present and future prosperity.

TODAY'S TALK

By George Matthew Adams

THE ART IN YOUR HEART

Art is much. Life without it is little indeed. So that to perform the artistic task in our existence is to live well.

For art is the expression of the delicate and beautiful. Though in all art there is an inexpressible depth of power.

We see the art of the world with our eyes, we appreciate it with our minds—but we FEEL it in our hearts.

It is the art in your heart which counts most of all. Kindness, gentleness and courtesy are all arts and a very important phase of art in general. Whether people carry loveliness in their hearts, they express it in whatever they do, whether that expression is in the shape of a painting, a bit of bronze, or some fine act.

There are artists beside those who paint with brushes and those who have the ability to thrill great crowds with the tones of their fingered skill. The greatest artist of all is he who in his heart is an artist.

And only those with art in their own hearts are able to appreciate fully the art in another's heart. Art is co-operative. It is democratic. It is sublime!

It is the art in your heart which makes you want to be useful and happy and to give out from the best you have or hope to have. There is nothing selfish about art.

Arguments Are Presented Here On Proposed State Legislation

Statements for or against any of the amendments or initiative or referendum measures to be voted on at the November election will be published under this heading. The Register desires that the questions at issue be presented fairly and fully. Brevity has strength, and repetition should be avoided. Publication shall not be construed as an expression of the views of The Register.

WHY THE PROPOSED UNIVERSITY TAX DOES NOT APPLY TO CORPORATIONS

By PROFESSOR CARL C. PLEHN of the University of California

It has been asked why Constitutional Amendment Twelve, providing for the support of the University, places the proposed tax on the general run of taxable property, but not on railroads and other public utilities. The answer is simple. The proposed tax is an ad valorem tax, and such a tax can be imposed only on the kinds of property that are taxed on an ad valorem basis. In California public utilities are taxed on a different basis.

There are two outstanding classes of taxpayers under the California tax laws, one class which pays on an ad valorem basis, and the other which pays a percentage of gross receipts. In the first class we have the general body of taxpayers who pay upon the value of their real estate and personal property. In the second class we have the railroads and other public utilities, which pay a percentage upon their gross receipts fixed from time to time by the legislature. The tax imposed upon the gross receipts of the public utilities is a substitute for and designed to be the equivalent of an ad valorem tax upon the value of the properties of these public utilities.

This system has been in force for ten years; and throughout that period the tax burden resulting from each of the two methods of taxation has been maintained on a basis of equality by the legislature which from time to time has revised and altered the percentages on the gross receipts paid by the public utilities. Such revision was made in 1913, 1915 and 1917, and a revision would have been made in 1919, had it not been that the railroads were then in the hands of the federal government and the government refused to agree to any change.

In fixing the percentages on gross receipts to be paid by the public utilities, the legislature first ascertains the average burden of taxation borne by property which is taxed on the ad valorem basis, and then so adjusts the percentages on the gross receipts of the public utilities that the properties in both classes bear the same tax burden.

This process of adjustment will be followed at the legislative session of January next, and the revision at that time of the percentages to be paid by the public utilities will include the collection from them of the sum which they would pay under the University tax, if their properties were taxed on an ad valorem basis.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

MRS. C. COMES BACK

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 19, '20.
Editor Register:—After reading Mr. Forgy's article in last Saturday's Register, I felt that I must defend my position.

I stand corrected on one point. I am glad to learn that my husband's brother, Henry, would only have one-fourth of my husband's share of our community property instead of four fourths.

Then if I should die, childless, why shouldn't my husband share my half of our community property with my brothers and sisters? If it is community property in the true sense of the word—and we are assuming that it is such—why shouldn't the wife have the same rights as the husband?

There seems to be some doubt as to whether the property, in my particular case, is community property. When I said it was community property, I stated a fact. The deed was made out in both my husband's name and my own. I wouldn't think of it being otherwise, even if I did have the larger portion.

I do not think Mr. Forgy read my article very carefully. My son is not dead. The phrase reads "if my husband and son should both die."
Then he says I would have a $5,000 homestead. If the property is community property and valued at $12,000, wouldn't my half be $6,000? These small details, I admit, do not happen to affect the real situation.

But one thing stands out clear in my consciousness, and that is, if the wife dies, childless, her share of the property goes to the husband; while if the husband dies, childless, his share is divided up between his wife, and his mother and brothers and sisters; and if they don't happen to exist, I suppose his aunts and uncles and cousins come in for their share that the wife isn't allowed.

I suppose the reason why the husband is sometimes called upon to support mothers and sisters is because he is the wage earner. Women wouldn't be dependent if the right system were employed.

Housekeeping and homekeeping haven't been reckoned as occupations of any value, but the time will come when the woman who cooks and washes and scrubs, and makes the clothes for the family, and trims her own hats, and feeds the chickens, and weeds the garden, and brings up her children to be decent citizens, will be regarded as a wage earner.

The time will come when the worker will be rewarded according to his or her ability. There won't be any place for the person who fails to do his share of the world's work—I admit that time is far distant.

But we can assume our share of responsibility now by trying to adjust conditions that are wrong, and even if the proposed law does add a little more burden to the banks and disturbs credit, as the argument has stated, those things will finally be adjusted.

If, in order to right a wrong condition, there is a seeming disturbance, we can rest assured that it will be overcome, for justice will always prevail.

Even if this law failed to pass this election, it will finally come because it is right and good.

Respectfully yours, MRS. C.

Prominent Speaker to Be Heard Here Next Friday

The City Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations will hold its first meeting for the season on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the First Congregational church. Hon. Stanley B. Wilson, of Los Angeles, a member of the State Board of Education, will speak on "Statesmanship in Education." Mr. Wilson is an interesting and especially entertaining speaker, and the address which he will give Friday evening was given by him at the Principals' and Superintendents' convention held recently in Riverside, where Mr. Wilson proved to be one of the most popular speakers on the program.

A brief musical program has been arranged, and community singing will be in charge of Mrs. H. M. Sammis.

An urgent invitation to attend this meeting is extended to all the city teachers, and to all Santa Ana people who are in any way interested in the public schools and their work. The Parent-Teacher Association is considered to be filling an important place in the co-operation between the school and the home, without which the school, the teachers and the children are sorely handicapped, and it needs the cordial support of all school patrons.

The list of officers of the city federation this year includes Mrs. Terry Stephenson, president; Mrs. Cood Adams, first vice president; Rev. W. L. H. Benton, second vice president; Mrs. John A. Harvey, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Allie Cain, treasurer; W. W. Hoy, auditor; Mrs. Charles Hosen, financial secretary; Miss M. Elizabeth Wyant, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Wyllys Perkins, historian.

The city federation holds out three meetings during the school year, one in October, one in January, and one in April. The president of the Parent-Teacher Associations in the city are: High school, Mrs. H. M. Sammis; Junior high school, Mrs. I. R. Hendrie; Washington, Mrs. W. H. Thomas; Jefferson, Mrs. Harry Leipsie; Lincoln, Mrs. Ora Helme; McKinley, Mrs. Fred L. Cole; Roosevelt, Mrs. Nell D. Winslow; Spurgeon, Mrs. Cood Adams; West First, Mrs. Guy Koons; Logan, Mrs. Juana Rios; Santa Fe, Mrs. Ed Nieblas.

Tuesday evening the St. Elizabeth Guild of the Church of the Messiah enjoyed a Halloween dance in M. W. A. Hall. About seventy-five were present to enjoy the fun.

Toros Rebekahs are making plans for a grand Halloween dance to be given in L. O. O. F. hall the evening of October 30th.

Last evening the Philathea class of the First Methodist church was entertained at a Halloween party at the home of Misses Esther and Ethel Coffman, 508 East First street.

Halloween Customs to Be Revived by Santa Anans

Halloween will soon be here, the night on which, according to the beliefs handed down to us from the old-time peasantry of western Scotland, witches, fairies and all other mysterious beings assert themselves in charms and spells.

It was on this night that the Scottish young folk made attempt to peep into the future and many were the ceremonies observed. The first ceremony of Halloween was for each to pull a "stock" or plant of Kail. They went out, hand in hand, with eyes shut, and pull the first they came to, it being big or little, straight or crooked, was prophetic of the size and shape of the grand object of all their spells—the future husband or wife. If any earth stuck to the root of the plant, it was fortune; and the taste of the heart of the stem was indicative of the natural temper and disposition of the future spouse.

Lastly, the stems were placed somewhere above the head of the door through which all would pass; and the Christian names of those whom chance brought into the house were, corresponding to the priority of placing the stalks, and their entrance, the names in question.

Burning the nuts was a favorite charm. They named the lad and lass to each particular nut as they put them on the fire. If they burned quietly together the courtship would be smooth; but if they blazed away from each other, it prophesied a parting.

Many other charms were employed, one of which has come down to us, that of eating an apple before a looking glass and holding a candle for light, which is supposed to reveal the conjugal companion to be, as if peeping over the shoulder.

Among those who will revive the Halloween customs at their homes, between now and the end of the month, are: Mrs. L. M. Forcey, who will entertain 18 or 20 classmates of her daughter, Alice Olive, tomorrow evening, and will also give an affair Saturday evening for 25 or 30 friends of her younger daughter, Frances, and her son, Alfred.

Word from Miss Gertrude Richardson and her uncle, Levi Richardson, 516 West Fifth street, who have been visiting in Iowa for two months, is to the effect that they will return to Santa Ana about November 1. On October 16 they were at Pella, Iowa.

Woman's Auxiliary To Meet
The Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah will meet with Mrs. Ruth Tiffany, 1316 Spurgeon street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Philathea Class Entertained
Twenty-five members of the Philathea class of the First Methodist church were delightfully entertained at the home of Misses Esther and Ethel Coffman, 508 East First street, the affair being in the nature of a Halloween party. Pumpkins, candles, bats, cats, owls and other cut outs, and decorations associated with the weirdest night of the year, were very much in evidence, and many uncanny games were played. Fortunes, told by a "gypsy," and chest stories, were also a feature, and afforded much amusement. Refreshments suitable to the occasion were served by the hostesses and Miss Alma Salk, who assisted them. Miss Pauline Guthrie, teacher of the class, was among those present, and Rev. and Mrs. John Oliver were guests of the class.

Constitution Big Issue In Campaign

Restoration of constitutional government is one of the big issues of the presidential campaign, according to Mrs. Stephen A. Lowell, Woman's Party Chairman of the Second Oregon district of Pendleton, Ore. In a statement to the National Welfare Union, of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Lowell says:

"The fundamental issues of this national campaign are two, (1) restoration of constitutional government, (2) maintenance of the Volstead Act until its efficacy or inefficiency has been demonstrated through fair trial.

"The weakness of one man government is as prevalent among women as among men, and it overshadows all consideration of the League of Nations, except among impractical idealists. There is general belief, that the prohibitory statute, not the constitutional amendment, is in danger. Therefore the great majority of women are probably voting for Harding and Coolidge.

"The high cost of living is so intimately connected with the basic economic policy of the government that most women, as well as most men, are led to the belief that a change of party at Washington means better conditions. Surely they cannot be worse. Industrial unrest is of course an incident to the war. Upon social and educational problems I apprehend that the opinions of women do not differ materially from those of men, and that they will divide at the polls in about the same proportion as men divide. The thoughtful do not look to the government to solve all problems."

Cooked Food Sale Will Be Held Next Saturday

Attention Baptist women! The girls of Mrs. Hosea's class are to hold their cooked food sale next Saturday, instead of Sept. 30th, as was announced. It is to be held in the Acme grocery store, between Third and Fourth on Main street. It is hoped that the women of the church will come and help this class to increase the fund for assisting a needy family.

Marries Southern Girl
Word has just been received by Mrs. Annie M. Baker from her son, Ensign Verne A. Baker, announcing his marriage, October 20th, at Norfolk, Virginia, to Miss Elizabeth Lee Henderson. The young people will make their home in Wichita Falls, Texas, where the groom is in the advertising business. Ensign Baker is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and has many friends in this county, having lived here for many years. He is also a graduate of Berkeley. During the war, he served in the U. S. Navy.

Celebrate "Ladies' Night"
Elks Hall was the scene of another enjoyable dance, last evening, it being "ladies' night." The affair was largely attended and was very successful, indeed. Chapman's orchestra furnished the music. There will be another ladies' night dance at the hall next month.

Pasadena Woman Talks On Foreign Missions

Pasadena Woman Gives Talk
Many women interested in foreign missionary work were in attendance yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary of the First Methodist church, held in the church parlors, to hear Mrs. McQuigg of Pasadena, who gave a very good report of the branch annual meeting held in Berkeley. Mrs. McQuigg's talk emphasized the importance of women realizing their responsibility when they enter missionary work, as well as the importance of the work itself.

Mrs. Horton Palmer presided at the meeting and Mrs. Halstead brought the Bible message.

Mrs. Jesse Albright delighted all present when she sang a beautiful solo, "A Song of Trust," with Mrs. W. B. Snow at the piano. Annual reports were given by the officers. The treasurer's report showed a total of $2112.60 had been collected for this year. Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. W. O. McLeod, president emerita; Mrs. Horton Palmer, president; Mrs. Kellogg, 1st vice president; Mrs. John Oliver, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Harding, treasurer; Mrs. Finn, Corr. Sec.; Mrs. W. R. Freeman, Rec. Sec.; Mrs. Brande- burg, program comm.; Miss Richardson, supervisor of young people's work; Mrs. Kellogg, Supt. Light Bearers; Mrs. Hutton, Supt. King's Heralds; Miss Richardson, Supt. Standard Bearers; Mrs. Saunby, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Leonard, special work; Mrs. McCormac, missionary assistant; Mrs. Hutchins, Sec. of Literature; Mrs. Leonard, Mite Box Sec.; Mrs. A. H. Theal, extension work.

A standing vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. H. J. Palmer, the retiring treasurer for her three years of excellent service.

First Ebell Program.
Ebell members will have presented to them at their meeting next Monday one of the finest musical programs of the season, when Bessie Irene Chapin, one of the best known women violinists in America, will give a program of oriental music.

With Miss Chapin there will be four other artists—Neil Lockwood Josephs, contralto; Dorothy Harris, danseuse, and Olga Orth and Helen Tappe, accompanists.

All of the artists appear in costume, which, with the oriental atmosphere created by the stage setting, make a most delightful picture.

Miss Chapin is a particularly charming young artist, and her work is earning the sincere praise of music lovers wherever she appears.

Which Bridge should a woman choose?

The Weak or the Strong One

If you see before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal, would you ignore it and choose some insecure and tottering structure?

If you were offered sure aid in time of trouble would you hesitate to accept it?

The answer is simple—you would choose what all evidence showed to be the safe way—and you would risk nothing in useless experiments.

Why then do some women risk one of their most precious possessions—their health—in trying medicines of unknown value, when everybody knows that the most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is more proof:

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' and there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines.'" —Mrs. Wm. Stein, 500 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

REPUBLICAN OBSTRUCTIONISTS OF PEACE.

In the midst of war the present senatorial cabal, led by Senators Lodge, Penrose and Smoot, was formed. Superficial evidence of loyalty to the President was deliberate in order that the great rank and file of their party, faithful and patriotic to the very core, might not be offended. But underneath this misleading exterior, conspirators planned and plotted, with bigoted zeal. With victory to our arms they delayed and obstructed the works of peace. It deemed useful to the work in hand no artifice for interfering with our constitutional peace-making authority was rejected. Before the country knew, yes, before these men themselves knew the details of the composite plan, formed at the peace table, they declared their opposition to it. Before the treaty was submitted to the senate in the manner the Constitution provides, they violated every custom and every consideration of decency by presenting a copy of the document, procured unblushingly from enemy hands, and passed it into the printed record of senatorial proceedings. From that hour dated the enterprise of throwing the whole subject into the technical discussion, in order that the public might be confused. The plan has never changed in its objective, but the method has. At the outset there was the careful insistence that there was no desire to interfere with the principle evolved and formalized at Versailles. Later, it was the form and not the substance that professedly inspired attack. But pretense was futile when proposals later came forth that clearly emasculated the basic principle of the whole peace plan. It is not necessary to recall the details of the controversy in the senate. Senator Lodge finally crystallized his ideas into what were known as the Lodge reservations, and when congress adjourned these reservations held the support of the so-called regular Republican leaders. From that time the processes have been interesting. Political expediency in its truest sense dwarfed every consideration either of the public interest or of the maintenance of the honor of a great political party. The exclusive question was how to avoid a rupture in the Republican organization. The country received with interest, to say the least, the announcement from Chicago, where the national convention was assembled, that a platform plank, dealing with the subject of world peace, had been drawn, leaving out the Lodge reservations, and yet retaining agreeable to all interests, meaning thereby, the Lodge reservationsists, the mild reservationists and the group of Republican senators that openly opposed the League of Nations in any form. Shall we reject the League of Nations and thus force ourselves to become a great militarist nation, or accept the league and thus choose political preparedness for peace?

ORGANIZE FOR CITY PAGEANT

As a result of the meeting at the First Congregational church last night, at which representatives of ten different patriotic, fraternal and civic organizations met with a committee from the Ministerial Union to discuss plans for the Pilgrim Fathers Pageant, definite results in the direction of staging the biggest production of its kind ever attempted in Orange county are evident today.

Mrs. John Clarkson was elected chairman of the committee to select and stage the pageant. Those who were elected to serve with Mrs. Clarkson on this committee were: Miss Birdenla Henry, Mrs. Albert Zaiser, Ernest C. Phillips, Mrs. F. T. Porter, Mrs. A. T. O'Rear, C. A. Gustlin and Miss Hazel Bemis.

Rev. P. F. Schrock of the First Congregational church, was elected chairman of the committee on general organization and Miss Hazel Bemis, secretary.

Mrs. Terry Stephenson was appointed chairman of the publicity committee and will have charge of the publicity campaign for the pageant.

Organizations which sent representatives to the meeting last night were: Daughters of the American Revolution; the city, which was represented by the mayor; the Elks, represented by Walter Eden; Fraternal Brotherhood, American Legion, Rotary Club, Junior high school, Ebell Club, Santa Ana Music Association, and the Ministerial Union, which has been fostering the movement in the city.

It is the plan of the organization as developed last night, to make the pageant the biggest feature of the kind ever staged in the county. Every organization present signified a willingness to aid in any way possible.

Sugar is up a dollar today. Yesterday, refiners in Los Angeles began quoting $11, and some of them $12 per 100 pounds.

A good many local people who have been watching the sugar market believe that it has reached the bottom. Within a short time it has dropped from $26.

Sugar beet growers are hoping for higher prices than are now prevailing, for the price to be paid growers of sugar beets is based on the prices paid the factories for sugar.

VAGRANCY CASE MAN IS GIVEN 'FLOATER'

George Meyers, who was arrested about a week ago in company with Lawrence Clanton on a vagrancy charge after having, it is said, approached a Santa Ana woman and attempted to obtain money from her under false pretenses, was "floated" out of the community under a sixty day sentence, suspended on condition that he get out and stay out of Orange county.

Meyers waived a jury trial, even one of the famous one-man-jury trials of Justice Cox, after he had critically examined "Red" Imes, the proposed jurymen. He said he didn't believe that he could care for a jury, but would take his chances with the judge.

Meyers during his stay in the county jail was said to have threatened Constable Jesse Elliott who arrested him with a huge lawsuit, which was to remove Elliott forever from the police force of Santa Ana. Meyers testified that he was a close personal friend of Earl Rogers, the famous Los Angeles criminal lawyer, and he has repeatedly said that Rogers would be in Santa Ana to defend him. He neglected to state whether he originally became acquainted with Rogers.

Rogers, however, appeared to have been delayed in some mysterious way or other, for he did not turn up for the trial. Meyers therefore conducted his own defense. He stated that he had been arrested but once before, that time being at Pendleton, Oregon. He said he didn't care if the whole world knew his past record.

Deputy District Attorney A. P. Nelson started to read Meyers' past record, as given by the criminal fingerprint bureau. This is said to show that he had been arrested in Los Angeles when he was 17 years old, in 1915, on a burglary charge, and sent to the Whittier Reform school. He was released from that institution on probation in 1916, it is said. He promptly broke his parole, according to information given out here, and the officers of the institution have been looking for him since. Nothing will be done on that charge, Whittier authorities state, because of the statute of limitations.

Fingerprints tend to show that Meyers was arrested on a charge of burglary and "C. V."—carrying concealed weapons—in Denver, Colo., in January of this year, and that he was sentenced to six months, which time, it is said, he served, being but recently released. It was

Chiropractic Prize Contest Letters

2402 South Grand Ave., Los Angeles, Cal.
State Chiropractic Society of California, October 10, 1920
1112 Washington Building
Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen:—
Why I shall vote "yes" on the Chiropractic Initiative Measure Nov. 5 in the November election:

I believe in medical freedom for all. I own my own body and certainly have the right to choose the kind of medical treatment I desire for my body. There is too much carving and drugging of people by the M. D.'s. They have a mania to operate and most of their operations are guess-work. One operation generally calls for another.

It is said that a certain doctor asked a surgeon who had just performed an operation: "What did you operate for?" The surgeon replied, "For five hundred dollars." When asked what the patient had, he replied again, "That's all he had." The dollar is what most of them operate for.

I have a friend in Texas who had one operation after another until she was completely unsexed, as everything was taken out after five carvings. When I saw her last, she still suffered untold agony.

I will vote for No. 5 because it will give Chiropractors a free hand to treat their patients without being persecuted by the Medical Trust.

I will vote for No. 5 because Chiropractic adjustments have cured people who had been treated by the M. D.'s and given up as incurable.

And last, but not least, I will vote for the Chiropractic Measure No. 5 because the Chiropractors do not cut up and torture living animals, or experiment upon orphan babies or friendless, helpless people. Nor do they pollute the pure life blood with poison scums and vaccines as the M. D.'s have been doing for years in the name of so-called science.

Respectfully,
MRS. MAY BONN.

2402 South Grand Ave., Precinct 167.

Seven of the fifty-seven varieties of reasons why I shall vote "Yes" on the Chiropractic Initiative Measure No. 5:

Because—

1. I believe in the doctrine of live and help others to live, which Chiropractic does.

2. I believe that we should not condemn anything without a fair trial, as the doctrine of a square deal is the fundamental principle of American liberty.

3. I believe that Chiropractic, if worthless, will die of itself; if valuable, we have no right to deprive mankind of its help.

4. I believe that Chiropractic DOES cure where medicine fails.

5. I believe that Chiropractic can make the deaf to hear, and the lame to walk.

6. I believe that Chiropractic does its work without exposing us to the deadly danger of poisonous drugs.

7. I believe that every new invention, every new discovery, every new thing found out and used for the benefit of humanity, is but a drop in the mighty onward wave of civilization, against which the puny efforts of Mrs. Partington's mop will prove quite ineffectual.

also alleged that he has several aliases.

Meyers, however, seemed less anxious to have the whole world, particularly the judge, know the complete record as given by Nelson and entered objection to its being read on the ground that it was immaterial. "Objection sustained," said Judge Cox, "and I order it stricken from the account. But we all know it's a good long record, George."

In suspending the sentence Judge Cox told Meyers that the best thing he could do would be to do a pair of overalls and get a job out on a ranch somewhere, away from the city.

SALT LAKE PLAYER BACKS NORTON STORY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Following what was declared to have been substantiation of charges that Salt Lake players were paid for "throwing" games to the Vernon club last year, according to the testimony of Earl Maggert, discharged outfielder of the Salt Lake team, the county grand jury will on Monday resume its investigation of the coast league baseball scandal.

Maggert's testimony yesterday was said to have supported charges of "Babe" Borton that he had paid Maggert several hundred dollars about two weeks before the end of last season. It was alleged crooked baseball which allowed Vernon to win the pennant, Borton charged.

Maggert today denied that he had any knowledge that the money he received might have come from so-called "sure thing" gamblers. It was part of a "slush fund" raised by Vernon players, he believed.

WARNS FARMERS OF PRICE DROP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Five of the country's most important financial problems were discussed by Secretary of the Treasury Houston before the convention of the American Bankers association here. He outlined the problems and recommended ways for their solution.

Houston first took up the farmers' plea for financial aid in marketing their crops. He asked the bankers to help the farmers all they could. He warned the farmers that world-wide price recession is on and that the government could not halt it if it wishes.

Discussing liberty bonds, the secretary declared against all steps of refunding the bonds in securities bearing higher interest. The bonds, he said, would soon return to par without such measures.

The public debt, Houston said, has been reduced more than 2,500,000,000 and the floating debt $1,600,000,000 since August, 1919.

The Allies' debt to the United States should not be forgotten, the secretary said, adding that negotiations toward turning of demand obligations now held by this government into long time obligations are proceeding.

Federal taxes should be revised, the secretary said, but warned the total they are to bring in cannot be greatly cut.

FRANCE CARES FOR MAIMED SOLDIERS

"In all the time I was in France I did not see a beggar. Men who were maimed, who lost legs and arms, are not seen standing around on the streets. Every man of the many hundreds of thousands permanently injured during the war who is capable of doing anything at all, has found a place. The government has put him to doing something. Those who are not able to do anything are taken care of in institutions or elsewhere. They are not out on the streets, seeking charity."

This is but one of many conditions described by L. B. Valla, well known Southern Pacific official, who has just returned from a trip of four months in France, Belgium and other European countries.

"France wasted no time getting back to the farm," declared Valla. "Every farm is cultivated to its limit. The French have gone out on the old battlefields and wherever they could find a few square feet of tillable earth have planted something. They have had and are having bumper crops and the farmers are doing well financially."

HIGHER TARIFF REMEDY SAYS C. C. TEAGUE

Lemon Situation Reviewed by President of Citrus Exchange

"The remedy for the lemon situation is higher tariff."

This declaration is made by C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Teague is president of the Limonera Co. of Santa Paula, owner of the largest lemon holdings in the state.

Teague's view on the lemon situation were given in an address before the Los Angeles Athletic club. In that address he said:

You are asked to consider for a few moments the political situation in this campaign as it affects some of California's important industries. And I have been asked to tell you something of the present conditions of the California lemon industry.

Big Acreage Now.

Working under the belief that they could ultimately take the markets of the United States and Canada from the Italian producer, and under the fostering care of the Republican protective tariff, the California lemon grower has planted 45,000 acres to lemons; 27,000 acres of which are in bearing, and 18,000 acres are not yet in bearing. These groves are now bearing about four million boxes of lemons annually, enough to supply the entire United States consumption, and from this time on will not only supply present consumption but the young groves will more than keep pace with the growth of lemon consumption in the United States.

Thus has been developed an American industry of sufficient magnitude to supply the consuming demands of the people. Now let us see what is happening to that industry. In 1913 a Democratic Congress reduced the duty on Sicily lemons from $1.15 per box to 40c per box, or a reduction of 75c per box.

The full effect of this reduction has not been felt until recently on account of the World War which broke out in 1914 and which so interrupted shipping that Italian lemons did not come to this country in sufficient quantity to demoralize our markets; but now that the war is ended, the exchange rate in Italy money has so depreciated that an American dollar will buy about five times as many Italian lira as before the war, which means, of course, that when the Italian sells a box of lemons in New York for $2.00 and converts it into Italian money, he has the equivalent of $10.00.

Freight Items.

The freight rate on Italian lemons from Sicily to New York is forty cents per box, and from Sicily to British ports $1.05 per box; or 65c less to United States markets, which is an inducement to ship everything here that they can. The freight rate on California lemons to New York is $1.40 a box; or $1.00 more than the freight cost of laying down Italian lemons there. The present cost of producing lemons, f. o. b. cars, California, not including interest on investment, but only including labor and material costs, exceeds $3.00 per box, to which add $1.40 freight, and the cost of laying down a box of California lemons in New York City is $4.40, not including the cost of selling.

Now what has happened during the past year under these ruinous and almost impossible competitive conditions? There were brought in from Sicily during the year ending June 30th, 1,532,730 boxes of foreign lemons, or 120 per cent more than the previous year, which sold for $2.20 per box delivered in New York, or just one-half the actual cost of laying California lemons down in those same markets. Is it any wonder that the California lemon crop has been sold at an actual loss to the growers?

Can't Meet Them.

It must be apparent to anyone who thinks that California cannot meet, on the present competitive basis, the product of Sicily. It requires about ten years of time and the expenditure of $1,000 per acre in addition to investment in land and water, to bring a lemon grove to the bearing state, and I submit to you gentlemen, and to the voters of the United States, whether it is in the interest of the people of this country to allow this foreign competition which, as I have pointed out, due to war conditions cannot possibly be met, to rule one of our important industries. It looks so hopeless to our lemon growers that some of them are already digging up their groves, or budding them to other varieties. If this is allowed to continue, in a few years we will find that America's production of lemons will have again fallen far below our consumption, and we will again be dependent upon a foreign supply, which, when European conditions return to pre-war normal, will be diverted back to the usual channels, in which case our people will be paying more for lemons than ever before, and the proceeds going to enrich foreign producers.

What is the Remedy?

Now I have shown you the conditions, what is the remedy? The answer is a higher protective tariff, at least until exchange conditions have become normal. This, then, brings us to a consideration undertaken by a Republican congress. If a Republican congress revises the tariff and California's senators and congressmen are Democrats, no matter how able they may be, California will get very little consideration, as in that case our representatives would not be a part of the working majority of congress.

I well remember when I was one of the committee presenting California's claims for protection before the ways and means committee of congress, certain Republicans of that committee delighted in reading California's Democratic record, and would draw the conclusion that, judging from that record, California really did not believe in a protective tariff. Hence it is of the greatest importance that a solid Republican delegation be elected to congress in order that California may receive the consideration to which she is entitled.

On account of the great distance between California and the great consuming markets of the east, and the high freight rates to get California products into those markets, there is perhaps no state in the Union more dependent upon a protective tariff, and that, therefore, should always be found in the Republican column.

G. H. SCOTT AT L. A. GAS RATE HEARING

On orders from the city council, City Attorney G. H. Scott yesterday attended a hearing before a member of the State Railroad commission in Los Angeles on the application of the Southern Counties Gas company to increase its rates for industrial gas. The city is concerned in the matter by reason of its using gas under the boilers at the municipal water plant. The present charge made by the Southern Counties company to all users of gas for industrial purposes is 20 cents per 1000 cubic feet. The company seeks to have the rate raised to 30 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

City Attorney Scott cross-examined the engineer representing the Southern Counties company and advanced arguments sustaining his contention that the railroad commission should not allow the increase asked.

The facts brought out at the hearing will be reported to the commission as a whole, and a decision on the gas company's application will follow in due course.

The hearing began at 10 o'clock and ended shortly after noon.

Arthur F. Bridge, rate engineer for the gas company, and F. S. Wade, superintendent, were among the company witnesses. Bridges stated that the existing industrial rates were based on and limited by the value of the service to the consumer and measured by the cost of competitive fuels. The rates were established July 3, 1918, since which time fuel oil and distillate had increased 85 per cent.

Testimony was introduced by the company showing that increased rates were needed for betterment and necessary extension of the system.

AUTOS ESCORT G. O. P. LEADERS

Probably fifty automobiles carrying Republicans will escort Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican nominee for United States senator, and Gov. William D. Stephens on their tour of Orange county Saturday of this week.

The automobiles will leave the Santa Ana city hall at 9:30 o'clock. Anybody who desires to make the trip may meet the others at that place and time. A. E. Koepsel, chairman of the Republican county central committee, suggests that each machine carry a flag or a banner.

The delegation will meet Shortridge and Stephens at San Juan Capistrano. Addresses will be delivered during the day at San Juan Capistrano, Tustin, Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange, and in the evening at Birch park, Santa Ana, will be held the biggest rally of the campaign.

The speakers' party will be brought from Dan Diego in Lloyd Babbitt's closed car. Babbitt and Sam Jennings will leave tomorrow evening for San Diego.

A dinner is to be given for Mr. and Mrs. Shortridge, Gov. Stephens and Gov. Stephens' executive secretary, Martin Madsen, at Elks hall at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. Those who expect to be present at the dinner must notify S. M. Reinhaus not later than this evening.

SUGAR MILL FINISHES SEASON BEET GRIND

The sugar mill of the Southern California Sugar company has completed its run for the season, and today a small force was engaged in cleaning the plant in preparation for closing down.

The factory sliced more beets than usual, but the sugar production was less, the sugar content of the beets being less than for the average season. The light sugar content was due to the hot spell early in the season.

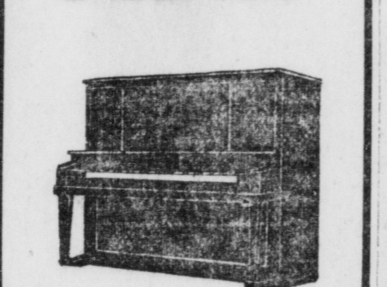

The production was 100,000 sacks. Station men, foremen and chemists employed at the factory have been sent to other plants, some going to county mills and others going to Sheridan, Wyoming and Delta, Colorado.

$100 A FRONT FOOT PAID ON ROSS ST.

With a view to erecting a fine residence, Dr. L. M. Hammond, a woman physician, has purchased the W. E. Gates lot at the southwest corner of Third and Ross streets. The purchase was made this week. The buyer has not as yet developed plans for her new residence. The consideration was $100 per front foot on Ross street, the frontage being fifty-nine feet.

Gates bought the property some months ago with the intention of building apartments.

Mrs. Hammond is visiting in Santa Ana at the home of John W. Norton. She formerly resided here, making her home with the Nortons. She is now living in Los Angeles, but intends to resume her residence in Santa Ana in the near future.

CARRIED TOO MUCH EXTRACT; IN JAIL

Making good his warning that he would send to jail second offenders brought before him for drinking extracts in order to get a "kick," City Recorder Heathman today sentenced "Bill" King to thirty days in the county jail. King was arrested last night.

D. W. Artz also was picked up by police on a charge of intoxication. He was before Heathman this morning for the first time on the charge of inebriacy and was fined $10.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN HUNGER STRIKE DEATH

CORK, Oct. 21.—The verdict rendered today by the military court of inquiry into the death of Michael Fitzgerald, the first of the hunger strikers to die in Cork jail, was that "deceased, of sound mind, deliberately caused his own existence to end, and did feloniously kill himself."

The governor of the jail testified that Fitzgerald took no food for sixty-eight days. Dr. Pearson, one of the jail physicians, testified that death was due to the gradual cessation of the vital functions caused by prolonged abstinence from all forms of nourishment.

The condition of the other hunger strikers has become worse as the result of depression caused by the death of Fitzgerald.

SACRAMENTO'S WATER SUPPLY ENDANGERED

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—If contentions of the rice growers of the upper Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers are upheld, the city of Sacramento will be without fresh water and all the rights of the two valleys will be endangered, was a declaration of John S. Partridge, attorney for the town of Antioch in a suit for a temporary injunction against the water diversionists.

Partridge maintained that the rice men had polluted the river by using so much water that salt water from the bay flowed up the river and declared that the one important question at issue was whether men could use water far above Sacramento on lands away from the river for the growing of rice, when such use would destroy the rights of farmers having prior rights.

PRESS ASSOCIATION GAINS NEW MEMBERS

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Fifty-five new members were voted into the Inland Daily Press Association. The membership of the association now is 250.

The report of a committee appointed to investigate the newspaper situation was read by H. J. Pope of Waterbury, Ct., chairman, who stated that indications are promising of a softening market.

Imported paper, the supply of which from Sweden and Germany is increasing, can be sold for only 6 cents a pound, and is of slightly better quality than domestic grades selling at 12 cents, the report said.

PLAYING AT HANGING IS FATAL TO YOUTH

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21.—Playing hanging proved fatal to Charles Weiss, 11 years old, son of Samuel Weiss of Eudora, Ark.

A rope placed under the boy's arms by several companions as part of a game of cowboys and Indians, men slipped, caught under his chin and strangled him. The victim's parents were attending a funeral.

RED CROSS HELPING FAMINE-STRUCK CHINA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Red Cross relief work is well under way in the districts of China where famine exists, the State department was advised by the American Legation at Peking.

The control of Red Cross funds is under the direction of American civil and military engineers who have volunteered to help in meeting the problem in China. A consortium committee, under the leadership of Dr. Grey of the British Legation has provided seed for planting and food for the starving inhabitants, effort being specially directed toward feeding the women and children of the famine-stricken areas.

POISON GAS IS DEATH TO THEM

G. W. Wardwell, deputy county horticultural commissioner in charge of rodent control work, has just finished inflicting the death penalty on several families of squirrels that were domiciled on some mesa land near Huntington Beach. The property belongs to W. T. Newland.

"I used carbon bisulphide, and made a complete 'clean-up,'" said Wardwell. "I have been having excellent success with the use of this gas. It costs about one-third more than poisoned wheat, but it nearly always given 100 per cent kill. Oftentimes, of course, we get 100 per cent kill with poisoned grain, but too often we do not."

Sometimes a squirrel dislikes the taste of poisoned barley, and he will haul it before he eats it. Some rats do that, too.

"Squirrels have increased rapidly in a number of spots. There has been a clean-up in the past two years over wide areas in the county. Here and there are spots where a few squirrels escaped. They have begun populating the earth, and it is now my purpose to hunt out all the spots where squirrels still live and apply the carbon bisulphide treatment to them."

Dr. Mark C. Meyers, Urologist, is again at his office, 110½ East Fourth, Santa Ana, after a prolonged illness.

A Santa Ana Interview

Mr. Hill Tells His Experience

The following brief account of an interview with a Santa Ana man three years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Oliver J. Hill, gardener, Santa Ana, says: "I do a lot of stooping over and I think that is what weakened my kidneys and caused pains in my back a year ago. At times when I tried to raise up, sharp pains would catch me in my kidneys and across my loins. I had a frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions and this disturbed my rest during the night. I had severe backaches, too. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in the paper and four boxes from Wingwood's Drug Store relieved the pains in my kidneys and strengthened them in good shape." (Statement given February 9, 1916).

On October 25, 1919, Mr. Hill said: "I know Doan's Kidney Pills are just as represented; they have always given me good results when I have needed them."

BALBOA ISLAND TRACT BOUGHT BY SANTA ANA SYNDICATE

Extensive Improvements In View by Investors Who Purchased 200 Lots

STREET LIGHTS PLANNED

Additional Investments In Contemplation; Big Future Seen for Port

Believing in Newport Harbor—both as a commercial and pleasure harbor—and realizing the possibility of advancement in values in properties on Balboa Island, a syndicate of local people has been organized and has bought a big block of lots on the island. The location is in the heart of the island, near the park.

The syndicate is composed of John Cullison, George Edgar, Mit Phillips, John Worton, T. H. Wovler, G. E. Bogart and L. H. Craft. It is reported that others have bought lots with the intention of building homes. The syndicate has purchased approximately 200 lots. E. J. Easton, local realty operator, negotiated the deal and will have the exclusive agency for re-sale of the lots. During the winter extensive improvements will be made by the syndicate and by the opening of the coming summer season it is expected the property will be ready for a selling campaign. Earth will be hauled upon all streets and lights will be installed. The improvement will be made in accordance with a definite plan and the tract will be made attractive for those who want a beach home.

Negotiates Big Exchange Deals Involving Orange County Property

A. B. Gardner is the new owner of fifty acres of beet land in the Talbert district, obtained in a transaction completed this week in an exchange involving a two-story brick business building at Ashland, Ore., owned by Gardner. Longfellow and Boyd were the men who exchanged their ownership of the fifty acres for the business property.

C. N. Grace has come in possession of a two-story brick building at Monrovia in an exchange of his twenty-acre ranch near Richfield, with Mr. Longmire of this city as the other party to the transaction. There are nine acres of Valencia on the Richfield tract and it is prospective oil producing land. Grace negotiated both of these deals, the considerations being around $75,000.

TAYLOR CANNERY CLOSES UP ITS SEASON'S RUN

The big cannery of Taylor's, Inc., on East Fourth street, is rapidly completing its season's run. In two or three days the plant will cease operations for the winter. Final operations are centering on figs.

The firm this year shipped ten carloads of its canned fruits and preserves, the season's output being valued at approximately $250,000.

The orange products department, operated as virtually a separate branch of the cannery, will be active practically all winter in the production of Dan-Dee-Dip oranges, made by a special process through which after the juice is removed, the fruit is sugared and dried. Dan-Dee-Dip oranges, however, are not sugar coated.

In the orange products department is also manufactured what is called "confectioners' orange," made from a by-product of the Dan-Dee-Dip fruit.

ORANGE AVENUE SUBDIVISION IS PLANNED

10-Acre Tract Purchased by Kenneth Van Slyck S. A. Man

A new subdivision for Santa Ana soon is to be opened as the result of the purchase of the Otis Birch ten-acre tract on Orange avenue by Kenneth Van Slyck. It is said to be the nearest acreage tract to the city available for subdivision purposes.

With the proposed opening of Calhoun street the tract can be platted to good advantage. Van Slyck is proposing a north and south street through his tract to be known as Wakemans street. It will be located one block east of Orange avenue and within about one block of the tracks of the P. E. Huntington Beach line.

Van Slyck proposes making the tract a high class subdivision with building restrictions.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDACY OF JAS. S. EDWARDS

In this paper will be found the advertisement of James S. Edwards, of Redlands, as the candidate of the dry and moral forces of the State, for U. S. Senator. He is a man of unblemished character. A business man of large interests and broad experience; a man of native ability and scholarly accomplishments, with a comprehensive and forward-looking grasp of public questions, and standing always for the clean, moral and patriotic upbuilding of our citizens and State.

In an argument in support of Mr. Edwards' candidacy, his publicity committee says:

"The San Francisco vote is hopelessly split. Each of the other two candidates lives there, each is avowedly wet. The race for United States Senator offers the temperance and moral forces an unparalleled opportunity of making themselves felt in the politics of the State, by electing a man who has always stood for righteousness in politics and every other field of life.

"His election will redeem the State of the odium of being among those which stand for that which promotes unrighteousness and debauchery.

"His candidacy is endorsed by practically all temperance and moral forces in the State, and he should receive the vote of every citizen who believes in the patriotic discharge of political duties, and a fair chance for every boy and girl in the race of life for liberty and happiness, and that none shall be exploited for the benefit of any class or condition.

"If you love your home; if you are one who labors against closed opportunity, and wish for a better day and time, vote for James S. Edwards."

U. S. Senator Is to Make Four Speeches On Tour Tomorrow

James D. Phelan

United States Senator James D. Phelan, campaigning for re-election, will speak four times in Orange county tomorrow.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon he is to speak at Fullerton; at 3:30 p. m., at Anaheim; at 4:45 p. m., at Orange, and at 8 p. m. in the city hall, Santa Ana.

Phelan is the Democratic nominee for United States senator. His campaign in this county is in charge of the Democratic County Central Committee. Representatives of the committee expect to meet him at Fullerton, and to escort him on his tour of the county. Senator Phelan will travel by automobile.

A dinner is to be given in Santa Ana to the Senator. A number of local Democratic leaders will dine with him.

The principal meeting of the Senator's visit here will be that to be held tomorrow evening at the Santa Ana city hall. It is expected that the Senator will go fully into matters that he may be able to review only briefly in his afternoon speeches.

URGENT APPEAL IS VOICED FOR GREATER S. A.

By EVERETT A. WHITE
The summer season is over. For Santa Ana it has been remarkable.

The year has been unprecedented in all-year-round real estate activity.

A record has been made in growth and building activity.

Our city is full—everybody is happy, prosperous and "going strong." In the month of August, Southern California and Santa Ana is in the heart of the best of it—did more building than all the rest of the Pacific coast, and exceeding the combined totals of San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma.

Tributary to Los Angeles, more than 1,000 new industries have been established in six years, and in this time the output has totaled $600,000,000, making Los Angeles the tenth city industrially in the United States. New industries are locating in Santa Ana. Many more are looking this way. These established are growing and their products are being sent to all parts of the world.

The great movement of population to our shores must be cared for. The great unrest caused by a shortage of coal and other conditions in the east and middle west will cause thousands of factories to look for new locations—and there is only one solution, Santa Ana, Southern California, with gas, crude oil, electric power and 365 days of sunshine.

Business must necessarily follow, buildings and homes must be erected. The work must be rushed. According to the chief engineer of the United States Housing Corporation, the nation is now short approximately 5,000,000 dwellings and apartments, which means twenty to twenty-five million people are in need of better shelter, with no immediate relief in sight.

"To meet the demand houses must be built. Allowing for a house of ordinary size, five or six building sites are available to an acre. It would require one million acres in building lots to meet the present demand and need of new houses.

There will be chances for further subdivisions in Santa Ana—and that, too, is going forward. The city and county are going forward. There will be no halt or hesitancy in this forward

PLANS TO RAZE OLD LANDMARK ON NO. MAIN

Placentia Man Buys Mansur Residence, and Will Build New Dwelling

Another landmark in Santa Ana is to pass. It is the Mansur residence on the northeast corner of Main street and Washington avenue. It is to be razed and in its place will be erected a handsome modern residence. The property has been sold to H. H. Balentine of Placentia. C. F. Mansur, pioneer resident and former banker, now deceased, erected the residence at the close of the boom in 1887, following the sale of his ranch on the southwest corner of Main and Santa Clara avenue. The ranch now is city property and the location of many residences.

The Mansur heirs have just concluded negotiations for the sale of the Main street and Washington avenue corner to Balentine. The lot has a frontage of 141 feet on Main and depth of 235 feet. The consideration was approximately $15,000.

Balentine is a successful rancher of Placentia and is moving to Santa Ana to make his home. After he razes the present structure, which contains eleven rooms, he will build, in addition to the residence, replacing the present dwelling, a cottage at the rear of the lot.

ORANGE BUILDING BOOM PROGRESSING

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—With local lumber plants rushing building materials to all sections of the city, building operations in this locality are at the zenith. Many new projects are in the course of building and numerous others being planned. Work on the new apartment houses being erected for Guy Richards on East Chapman avenue is being rushed to a speedy completion. The foundation has been laid and workmen are busy shooting up the skeleton of the building.

Across the street the city's new city hall building, being erected at the cost of $80,000 is another scene of much activity. The concrete foundation is in the course of being laid and all indications point to a rapid raising of the municipal building.

The Pease-Kolberg company recently moved the residence, formerly owned by J. W. Morrison from its site on South Cypress street to West Chapman avenue near Pixley street. This residence is being remodeled. A new residence will also be erected by this company on the corner of Pixley and Chapman streets, it was announced today. By moving the house off of the company's site considerable needed space has been added to the lumber yard facilities of the company.

Rumors of a new building to be built in the business district have leaked out. The proposed new structure, it is said, will run up into the five figure column. The building will embody all modern features, and it is declared, will be modern to a great degree ten years from now.

Joint Tenancy Plan On Gain Here, Says Robbins

Today seventy-five per cent of the deeds to property upon which loans are made by the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association stand in the names of husband and wife as joint tenants.

"Twenty-five or thirty years ago," said O. M. Robbins, the secretary, "practically all deeds were made to the husband. That condition has gradually changed. I have just finished making a comparison between loans that were made by this association during a three-year period ten years ago and loans that were recently made.

"In relation to the period ten years ago, I found that fifty-seven per cent of the loans made by us were on property that stood in the name of the husband alone, twenty-three per cent in the wife's name, and the remainder, nineteen per cent, was in joint tenancy.

"My check on the recent period shows ninety-nine per cent of the titles vested in the husband, fifteen per cent in the wife and seventy-five per cent in joint tenancy with the right of survivorship.

"This change is no doubt due to advice that has been given to people to whom deeds are given. When it is explained to a husband and wife what joint tenancy means, the tendency is to have the deed made out to them as joint tenants. The principal advantage is that upon the death of one, the other may easily secure title to the property without going through the probate court. The survivor may get an order of court declaring title vested in the survivor."

OVERCLOSED SHOP AGITATION CAUSED RECENT BUILDING SLUMP

That the sudden drop in the amount of building permits issued in the past two weeks was due to reported efforts on the part of agitators to make Santa Ana a closed shop city, was the statement made by City Building Inspector Thomas Ash.

"While the agitation was at its height," Ash said, "people were afraid to go ahead with building because of the fear that they might not be able to get union labor and that trouble might result if they employed non-union men.

"Since the matter has quieted down there has been a marked increase in the number and valuation of permits issued, the number issued last week being very nearly twice that of the preceding week."

Permits for the past week covered proposed construction totaling $37,577, of which $33,400 is for permits calling for thirteen new dwellings. The total number of permits issued in the past week was 26.

Total valuation given in permits issued for any building purpose amount during the past year is $1,757,781. The year's total for permits of any sort is raised to 760 by the number granted during the past week. Of these 294 are for dwellings.

Permits to build, alter or repair were issued to the following during the past week:

Mrs. Hazel Maxwell, dwelling and garage, 624 S. Main, $4500.
Mrs. U. D. Palmer alter and repair dwelling, 426 South Broadway, $2,000.
E. A. Noe, contractor.
N. E. Wray, alter and repair porch to dwelling, N. Broadway, $300, E. A. Noe, contractor.
H. G. Copeland, garage, 2415 N. Main, $125.
Roy Russell, dwelling and garage, 1211 West Fourth, $3200.

MURDER OF STUDENT HAS POLICE BALKED

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—The circumstances surrounding the death of Elmer C. Drewes, slain Dartmouth college senior, remains as shrouded in mystery as when his body was found with a bullet through the temple, according to the police who have abandoned all theories in the absence of any definite clue.

Charles Schloss, 21-year-old chum of Drewes, arrived from New York but could throw no light on the movements of his friend after 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Schloss said Drewes seemed to have something on his mind at the time and seemed very quiet. Schloss told the authorities he does not believe a girl figured in the case.

MEXICO LIFTS BAN ON GAME EXPORTING

NOGALES, Oct. 21.—Sportsmen will hereafter be permitted to import whole deer from Mexico into the United States, as a result of a conference between C. Aljondro Villanor, president municipal of Nogales, Sonora, and State Game Warden Joe V. Prochaska. Arizona law prohibits hunters from taking more than one deer in this state during a season. This prohibition, however, does not apply to game shot in Mexico. The warden says. Seeing the Nogales, Sonora, authorities and obtaining a permit is necessary to make the importation legal. The same applies to mountain sheep killed in Mexico. Permits for importing ducks shot in Mexico out of the Arizona season will not be issued, says Prochaska.

BANNER SEASON BRINGS COUNTY GROWERS BIG RETURN FOR HUGE CROP

6500 Carloads Being Handled by Exchange Houses In This District

MARKET ADJUSTS SELF

Writer Cites Figures for Purpose of Confronting Pessimists

By HORACE FINE.

If you are a pessimist, just look these figures over—$21,450,000 in coin of the realm rolling into the pockets of Valencia orange growers of Orange county.

Orange county is the greatest Valencia orange growing center in the world. One of the best crops ever produced is being shipped.

Harvesting and shipping is drawing to a close—the end will come this month. When the growers have pocketed their full returns, they will have lined their pockets with approximately the amount stated.

If you are a pessimist, let this sink in where it will do the most good—prices received for oranges this year will average higher than at any time in the history of the industry, with the possible exception of 1918, when a crop shortage and the influenza situation sent prices skyrocketing. No normal sales year of the past ever has approached this season.

Just think of it—more than twenty one million dollars coming into Orange county from one crop only. Is it any wonder that "Nature's Wonderland" is attracting new residents by the hundreds? Is it any wonder that choice Valencia lands in Orange county are jumping in value?

The Orange County Fruit Exchange will handle approximately 3000 cars this season. The Northern Orange County Fruit Exchange, embracing all the territory north of the Santa Ana river, will ship approximately 3500 carloads. In round figures the 6500 carloads represent about 2,955,000 boxes. A net return to the growers of $5.50 per box on the tree for the season's shipments is expected. Returns to date bear out that estimate.

To Pocket Vast Sum.
This means that the exchange members will pocket around $16,087,000. The exchanges will handle about 65 per cent of the crop of the county. The independent growers, on the same basis, will receive cash to the amount of $5,362,000, using round figures only.

Last year the growers received in the neighborhood of $15,000,000. Figured on this basis this season's crop shows a gain of approximately $6,000,000.

The market was shattered somewhat at the opening of the year, though what was at first expected to be a very poor year for market has proven to be one of the best. Markets were glutted early in the season by reason of large quantities of deciduous fruits being shipped, to the detriment of Valencia sales. However, the choicest of the Sunkist brands held their own at all stages, so far as price was concerned, the lower grades being the ones to suffer, a slump in quotations.

The condition brought about by the heavy shipments of deciduous fruits early in the season soon righted itself, with the result that all grades of Valencia are bringing, and have been bringing, for several months, satisfactory returns. The average for the year will show one of the best seasons on record.

ANNOUNCEMENT —TO ADVERTISERS

For the best interests of the advertisers, for the convenience of the subscribers, for the efficiency and peace of mind of the paper's employees, for the welfare of the carrier boys and for the general good of the community, it is necessary and desirable that the Register be printed and distributed promptly on time daily.

It is a physical impossibility to get the necessary work done at all, to say nothing of WELL DONE, unless the workmen are given sufficient time. To avoid delay and congestion, the Register has installed equipment and employed men for a double shift, the object of which is to get the day's work well along before the rush hours begin.

This effort is futile unless the extra shift, which works at night, is provided with copy to work upon. It is therefore announced that all copy for display advertising, regardless of size, must be given to a solicitor or brought to the Register's office not later than four o'clock on the day previous to publication to guarantee publication on that day.

This rule will take effect at once and will be adhered to religiously, not from any arbitrary viewpoint, but because it is regarded as necessary to the general good of all concerned. The co-operation of all advertisers is earnestly solicited.

FAMILIES DRAWN HERE BY C. OF C. BOOST WORK

With the campaign on for new members for the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the location of two new families here recently as a direct result of the service rendered by the organization is of particular interest.

S. J. Warner and family came here two or three months ago, and they came entirely as a result of information supplied by the Chamber of Commerce. Warner wrote various chambers of commerce in California for literature. That of the Santa Ana chamber impressed him most and he decided to come here. Seeing was believing with Warner, and he stayed.

Today the parents of Mrs. Warner are here. They are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wasson. They came from Des Moines, Iowa. They arrived two weeks ago, and Mr. Wasson has invested $20,000 in a residence.

He has purchased the H. J. Copeland place at 2409 North Main, there being three acres in the property. The purchase by Copeland started a series of moves that will result in at least three families changing residences.

After selling, Copeland bought Ed Stafford's residence at 2415 North Main. Stafford stepped over to his neighbor, W. L. Grubb, and bought Grubb's residence. He did not buy the land. The residence will be moved to the rear of a lot at the corner of Main and Wedgwood and will be occupied by Stafford and family until they get ready to build on the front of the lot.

Grubb will build a fine new residence on his property, costing around $10,000, it is said.

BALBOA ISLAND TRACT PURCHASED

restrictions that will make the tract a high class, exclusive beach residence district.

"Purchase of the block of lots on the island by local investors is evidence of local investors awakening to the possibilities of the Newport harbor district," said Easton today. "The new tract highway, when it is completed, will pass close to the property and will make it easily accessible. With the improvement of streets as proposed it will be possible to drive by auto to every lot within the blocks controlled by the syndicate. At present, motorists cannot drive up to the lots.

"An energetic campaign in the interest of the island will result in increasing the number of those who own inland cottages and who are retarding the development of Santa Ana and Newport Beach. The syndicate contemplates the purchase of considerable more property on the island."

URGENT APPEAL FOR GREATER SANTA ANA

movement and the census ten years hence will mark a 100 per cent growth.

THE MAN WHO HAS THE COURAGE TO GO IN WILL WIN.

Right here a warning might be sounded to some owners of real estate who are profiteering—they are retarding the development of Santa Ana and jeopardizing their just profits.

Let every resident put his shoulder to the wheel and push for a greater Santa Ana—greater in a commercial as well as in a population way.

Let's make the population in 1920 50,000. We can at least double our present population if we can't make it 50,000.

All boost together—it is easy.

DRY PLEDGES CAUSE 50 TO LEAVE CHURCH

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Fifty persons walked out of the Methodist Church of Shrub Oak, near Peekskill, when asked to sign cards of the Allied Citizens of America Association pledging themselves to work for candidates who would support the new liquor law.

Ex-Judge C. E. Armin, who was introduced as president of the association, represented it as an organization whose purpose was the education of the public regarding higher respect for the Constitution of the United States and especially the Volstead law. The alleged purpose of signing cards was to influence members of the Legislature to "see the light and do the right thing."

MEXICO GOVERNMENT EXTENDS AID TO MINE

NOGALES, Oct. 21.—Government aid will be lent mining interests of Sonora. The first help to be extended will be to the Peurtoctos mine, situated south of Naco and Cananea. This mine is being operated under difficulties for the reason that the road leading from the camp to highways running into Cananea, Naco and Agua Prieta are practically impassable.

Engineers sent into the district reported it possible to construct a good road and plans for such a highway were forwarded to the City of Mexico. Almost immediately the collector of customs at Naco was ordered to pay the president of Cananea $20,000, which will be applied to making the mine road passable.

TRY TO SOLVE WAR MYSTERIES

Scores of cases where American soldiers are reported to have been seen by friends after being officially pronounced dead by the War Department have come to light in the American Legion's campaign to clear away the uncertainty surrounding the fate of missing sons of heartbroken parents in all parts of the United States. Such cases predominate among the more than 2000 unsolved mysteries of the War which the American Legion Weekly is trying to clarify.

Fred G. Pippert sailed for France Sept. 19, 1915, from Camp Gordon, where he was a member of Co. C, 4th Replacement Reg. In December, 1919, his parents received official notice of his death on Oct. 3 at Brest, France. One of the soldier's friends is reported to have seen him alive and well on October 11. Later, the War Risk Insurance Bureau reported that he died at Camp Gordon on Sept. 2, which is known to be incorrect. Red Cross representatives made a search of all hospitals in the United States but found no trace of Pippert.

Anyone having any information about the case is asked to forward it to Mr. and Mrs. Adam Pippert, Dysart, Iowa. Their anxiety, which it is in the power of someone, somewhere to relieve, can be best appreciated by relatives of the hundreds of other missing men whose fate has never been definitely determined. By arrangement with the American Legion Weekly the Register herewith presents the following cases and will print others from time to time.

James R. Miller, Pvt. Co. G, 18th Inf., reported killed in action May 20, 1918. Wrote two letters between that date and May 27, but has not been heard from since. Write W. K. Landrum, 839 Harrison St., Stockton, Calif.

Maurice Katz, Pvt., Hq. Co. 319th Engrs., reported sick in hospital at Brest, August 13, 1919, and later reported dead. Sister has since received information that leads her to believe he may still be alive. Write Miss Bessie Katz, 1228 McAllister St., San Francisco, Cal.

Thomas C. Zehner, Co. F, 110th Inf., wounded July 29, 1918, and later reported dead. Said to have been alive in July, 1919. Write mother, Mrs. Charles Zehner, 1469 Philadelphia St., Indiana, Pa.

Michael J. Mahoney, 96th Co., 6th Marines, reported died Oct. 12, 1918, from wounds received Oct. 3; later reported seen in hospital. Address sister, Miss Mary A. Mahoney, 95 Taft Ave., New Brighton, N. Y.

George C. Winkler, Pvt., Co. B, 47th Inf. Has been missing since Oct. 7, 1918. Anyone having information should communicate with Hy A. Lampe, of Dissen-Winkler post, American Legion, Germantown, Ill. CALIFORNIANS SEEK PROPERTY IN MEXICO

NOGALES, Oct. 21.—California millions will pour into Sonora, Mexico, within the next few months, according to J. A. Kirk, prominent engineer of San Francisco, who has returned from a two months' tour through the southern republic, where he made an exhaustive survey of mining possibilities in various portions of the country.

Mr. Kirk represents a syndicate of California capitalists, composed of Los Angeles and San Francisco men. This syndicate plans to invest millions in developing the long neglected mines of Sonora.

The engineer left today for Los Angeles and will return in about two weeks with a party of clients, who will go over the prospects selected by Mr. Kirk and decide upon the location of the properties they propose to purchase. The millionaires will pass possibly six weeks or two months in Sonora, Sinaloa and adjoining states.

WALNUTS SELLING FAST SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 21.—Walnut growers are facing a good year. At least 70 per cent of the 1920 crop has already been disposed of and the market is seemingly ready for the balance. Present indications point to a ready disposal of the crop at the schedule of prices fixed by the association at Los Angeles. The crop as a whole appears to be good, though there are some blanks and shriveled meats. This is more than offset, though, by the small percentage of No. 2s, and it is expected that the grade of good nuts will probably equal anything the groves of California have yet put out.

They first went to Cuba but they did not like that place and one day they went down to the docks with the determination to take the first boat out, no matter where it went. The first boat happened to be going to Spain and they climbed aboard. After staying in Spain for some time they journeyed to France where they had a great time seeing the country and visiting relatives. They had nothing to do but have a good time and they saw everything worth seeing in the countries where they visited.

EL CENTRO, Oct. 21.—President J. S. Nickerson, General Manager F. N. Cronholm and other officials of Imperial Irrigation district who accompanied Governor Manuel Balaguer of Lower California on a tour of inspection of the diversion and levee system of the district, returned last night. The party spent Sunday and Monday visiting Hanlon's Heading, Ockerson Levee and other interesting points.

The trip was made on invitation of the district. Governor Balaguer might be familiarized with the canal and levee system, the difficulties of the district in diverting water, and the dangers which threaten the valley when the Colorado reached flood stage.

Rev. B. W. Marsh is a visitor to the city today.

The manager of an industrial plant called attention to a fact of human experience which works a hardship in the industry. He cited new accidents and said, "We have safety devices and urge the men to use them, but they get over-confident, refuse to use them and then in unguarded moments, the accident occurs, and it is the hospital for them. Loss of time and labor, handicap to the industry and disagreeable experiences."

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Apparently men who frequent the financial section of New York are pretty thoroughly convinced that the coming national election is not a betting proposition. There are plenty of Republicans willing to stake their money on the election of Senator Harding, but the supporters of Gov. Co have too little confidence to make it interesting. The latter are now demanding odds of 7 or 8 to 1, and the Republicans think this is too top-heavy to be interesting.

BREA CIVIC BODY FAVORS NEW SCHOOL

BREA, Oct. 21.—The Chamber of Commerce met in Sewell Hall. Dinner was served by Mr. Valdez and a volunteer group of high school girls, who received a vote of thanks for coming to the rescue. N. A. Wall and E. C. White were received into the membership.

Mr. Spicer reported for the educational committee that the schoolhouse had served a community purpose admirably for entertainment of the County Christian Endeavor convention and that this year's reception to the new teachers had eclipsed all such previous efforts of the P. T. A.

Mr. Culp also reported progress of plans for new school grounds between Birch and Cedar and east of Flower, seven acres, located in the southeast part of town where an eight-room school can be built, one half to be occupied next fall, and where park and camp site can be maintained.

The Chamber was in record unanimously favoring the proposed plans. This is one of the most delightful pieces of news for Brea since the water bonds were voted and sold before they were printed.

Mr. Adkins, reporting on post office and post roads, advocated installing new lock boxes and an open lobby to relieve the pressure of a long line waiting for mail. Mr. Phelps is preparing an accurate map showing present and proposed rural routes and changes demanded. Mr. Swing, candidate for Congress, has been shown personally our difficulties and given an understanding of the problem. In the event of his election he can intelligently help the city at Washington.

It developed that Uncle Sam is not paying enough rental to secure a building properly equipped for post office purposes. Mr. Culp offered to equip his new class "A" building for a postoffice if the citizens would supplement the rental but the offer was not accepted.

Mr. Culp reported from the Associated C. of C. that Newport wants to shovel more money into the channel, also that the "California" superdreadnaught asked for all-California personnel.

The amended bill to be voted on Nov. 2, were read, briefly discussed and an expression taken. Several men had gone, but thirty-four remained to the end. They were "yes" on numbers 1, 4, 8, 9, 11, 12, 16, 17, and the vote was "no" on numbers 3, 5, 6, 7, 13, 14, 15, 20; passed up for further study, numbers 15 and 19; and divided over numbers 2 and 10.

Mr. Leary and partners came prepared to get the Chamber of Commerce behind them in a movement for permanent quarters for their boxing enterprise, but upon advice changed their minds about injecting the question into the Chamber of Commerce membership.

Signers of the initiative petition for an ordinance against prize fighting, the regular boxing in the Congregational church Saturday night. Mr. Woodroof, who has recovered from his recent illness, resumed his place as chairman and reported that the legal requirements were such that they could not do anything except to refuse to pass the matter. A resolution was adopted stating that inasmuch as the Mayor had assured them that if this petition were withdrawn, the council would pass a good ordinance protecting the regular boxing in the Congregational church Saturday night.

EASTERN MAN DIES EN ROUTE TO ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Oct. 21.—Walter Hodges of Anaheim received a wire yesterday from his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Chandler at Houston, Texas, saying that Mr. Chandler died there suddenly, a very short time before they were to have left for Anaheim. They were residents of Bowling Green, Va., and were en route to Anaheim to make this their home, hoping the climate of Southern California would benefit Mr. Chandler's health. They stopped over in Houston for a few days to visit with relatives. Mrs. Chandler is a sister of Mrs. Walter Hodges.

ORANGE LEGION CARNIVAL OPENS

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—The bark of the concessions last night brought back the days of yore, when medicine shows and carnivals brought the throngs pouring into town by the everfaithful Old Dobbin but now its up-to-date carnival and people poured into town last night in shiny new machines for the opening of the big street carnival under the auspices of the local legion for a four-day stay.

The legion will get a share of the proceeds which will go to help swell the legion fund. The carnival is located on East Chapman avenue between Orange and Grand streets.

Fifteen shows and concessions are carried by the company, including a large Ferris wheel, a merry-go-round, Hawaiian entertainers and many other new features.

The legion benefit dance and concert hurling contest was the feature of last night's entertainment.

WEALTHY NEGRO FOE TO RACE EQUALITY

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 21.—Born a slave and now reputed to be one of the wealthiest and most respected negroes in the South, David T. Howard, 71, celebrated his golden wedding anniversary and made it the occasion to give some advice to members of his race.

Beginning on a legacy of $150, left by his former master, Howard now owns a business rated as the fourth largest of its kind in the city, and financial institutions readily make loans on his name.

"I never wasted time; never went in for wild oats; never saw a baseball game, and never danced a step—but always attended to my business," said Howard. "No social equality for me; no sane-thinking negro wants it."

The negro today, said Howard, wants better justice in courts, better accommodations on railway trains and more schools for his children.

"Too many silk shirts and too much good time," said he, were the causes of racial unrest.

MEXICO BANKERS URGE REORGANIZATION PLAN

NOGALES, Oct. 21.—Early rehabilitation of banks in Mexico and the liquidation of national debts were the outstanding features of a recent conference between the prominent bankers of the Southern republic and General Salvador Alvarado, minister of finance, according to information which reached Nogales, Sonora. The bankers at the meeting were a committee appointed by a conference of financiers held in the capital September 27. Each of these committees was instructed to prepare and submit to the minister of finance some plan whereby Mexico may restore her credits. The best features of all these plans will be incorporated into the ultimate financial policy of the nation, it was announced.

The new hardwood floor at the pavilion at Balboa makes dancing there more enjoyable than ever. Dancing Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and evening.

So far not more than $250,000 has been placed, according to Darnell & Co., and most of this was wagered within a short while after the nominations were made and at odds of 2 to 1. Since the campaign has developed there have been few actual wagers, and most of these on pluralities.

CORN-CUTTERS SCARCE GREENSBURG, Ind. Oct. 21.—Although corn-cutters can make between $9 and $10 a day, farmers say they are unable to get labor and the old time "cutters" can't be tempted out of retirement.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You owe it to the happiness and welfare of your family to keep trim in body and keen in intellect. You are the sun and the inspiration of their lives. Dark, threatening clouds hover over their heads the instant you show signs of being "out of sorts" or "under the weather." Don't imperil their future by neglecting your health.

LYKO The Great General Tonic will banish that "tired feeling" and dispel that worn-out look. It will renew your strength and vigor, overcome the ravishing effects of overwork and worry, revive your spirits and increase your hold on life. Being a refreshing appetizer, a valuable aid to digestion and a worthy promoter of the general health, because of its positive revitalizing and reconstructive value, its use is especially desirable in cases of subnormal conditions. If you suffer from nervous exhaustion, muscular or mental fatigue, or deficiency of vital force due to general weakness or wasting illness, you'll find "LYKO" particularly beneficial. It tones up the entire system and keeps you feeling fit. Ask your druggist for a bottle today.
